LEGISLATORS SEE GROWTH OF BAY FRONT

Warehouses and Wharves Are Surprise to Visitors and Favor for Pending Harbor Bill Is Promised by Many

Mayor Davis and Councilman Soderberg Represent City at Banquet, Where Appeal for Armory Project Made

California's assembly convened in informal session on the Oakland waterfront for more than two hours today in a trip that started at 9 o'clock this morning at the Pier Terminal, included a cruise along the western waterfront and concluded after the estuary had been traversed as far as the Hamilton Shipbuilding Company's plant.

Members of the party, which included seventy of the eighty legislators in the ways and on the marine railways called forth exclamations of surprise that so much work was being done. Another revelation came at the Hamilton plant, where the hulls are in process of construction and where two large freighters are being completed in the stream. The fleet of Alaska, Pacific Company vessels, some of them having their sails bent for the long trip to the north, attracted wide comment and all up and down the waterfront there were signs of activity.

On board the Claremont City Commissioner F. T. Soderberg and others explained the situation which they hope to have corrected by a new harbor before the legislature meets. Under present conditions there is a strip of the estuary frontage, below Oakland, under state control. Soderberg said that the city of Oakland had pointed out that until the law is changed there exists a handicap on improvements.

CITY CONTROL OF TIDELANDS URGED.
"We are not asking for any money," said Soderberg, "but simply for the right to spend our own money here. While this land is under state control we cannot feel certain of title and progress is blocked."

A bill similar to the one now before the legislature was passed by the assembly in 1915, but was killed in a senate committee. Following the boat ride an automobile trip along the Skyline Boulevard is planned. Leaving at 12:30, the legislators will have dinner tonight at the Hotel Claremont and expect to return to the capital tomorrow evening.

Legislators to Aid Project for Armory

Assurances that the plans for an armory and exposition building in Oakland would give sympathetic attention and Oakland's waterfront bill members of the California assembly at a banquet in their honor at the Hotel Claremont last evening. Legislators and other guests numbering close to 300, heard Mayor John L. Davis explain the exposition building project and the armory project. Mayor Davis and Councilman Soderberg speak for the waterfront project.

Beauty Accused

MRS. JAMES STILLMAN ("Fifi" Potter), famous society favorite and beauty, whose multi-millionaire husband names half-breed Indian guide in his divorce complaint.

Stillman Suit Names Indian Co-respondent

Half-breed and "Fifi" Potter Accused by Millionaire N. Y. Banker.

FOURKEEPSIE, N. Y. March 12.—A half-breed Indian guide, said to be one of the most handsome half-breeds in this state, has been named by Mrs. James Stillman, president of the National City Bank of New York, as co-respondent in a divorce suit brought by Stillman against his wife, better known in society as "Fifi" Potter, daughter of Ann L. Potter, niece by marriage of Bishop Henry C. Potter.

The suit is directed against Mrs. Stillman and her 26-month-old son. New York society was given a tempting morsel of gossip last July when a society journal published two letters purporting to be between one of the best known society matrons and an Indian guide. To the initiated, the identity of the woman was not difficult to conjecture. But of course the content was subversive. Now, with the disclosure of the nature of the suit and the naming of a north country half-breed, tongues are wagging, especially since the case promises to be a most bitterly contested one, involving the right of the infant, Guy, to the Stillman million.

INDIAN IS NAMED AS CO-RESPONDENT

According to a source of unquestioned authority the complaint which has just been filed and the hearing in New York held thus far, have established that the alleged co-respondent is a guide, half Indian, half English.

He is described as about 26 years old, an inch or so over six feet in height, wide of shoulder and lithe and powerful of build. His hair is dark and straight, his eyes are black and his complexion glows with the health of an out-of-door life.

STILLMAN BECOMES AUBURN BEAUTY AT 40

Those who know the bank president's wife say she has retained her youthfulness, and that she is famous in her youth, and that, although now past 40 and the mother of three children, she still shows the animation that was the delight of society when she was a debutante and a bride.

Best information is that it is not asserted in the complaint or by the Hops that Mrs. Stillman and the half-breed still are friendly. In fact, it is not charged that she has seen him for about a year. His whereabouts are said to be unknown. His name is Fred Beauvais.

'Doc' Fairbanks Takes Charge of Indisposed Mary

LOS ANGELES, March 12.—(By United Press.)—A galaxy of learned M. D.'s was dismissed and Douglas Fairbanks, L. D. (Laugh Doctor), today took charge of the peculiar case of Mary Pickford.

"I am Mary's new physician," an nounced the acrobatic husband of "America's Sweetheart." "She has well. Doctors don't know just what ails her. They say she has too much acid in her blood. They advise her to eat spinach for eighty years a keg with each meal; they say she must take a tablespoon of this, and a tablespoon of that nine times a day."

Miss Pickford is going to get a good dose of her husband's pre scription—travel and new scenery.
A complete change of climate and a change of life—these are what she could enjoy," said "Doc" Fair banks.

The movie celebrities leave for Mexico City Sunday, going by way of San Antonio and Laredo, Texas. Later they will visit Vera Cruz. They will then go by ship to New York.

"When will we be back? When Mary feels right. The rest can go to the devil," declared Fairbanks, who now has a moustache.

Militiamen on Guard to Halt
Springfield Riot

Feeling Between Whites and Blacks Runs High: 30 Are Arrested.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
SPRINGFIELD, O., March 12.— Springfield was quiet this morning following a night of disorder in which Patrolman Joseph Ryan and a negro were killed in a shooting change of shots between police and negroes. Nearly thirty arrests were made.

Three companies of Ohio National guardmen, consisting of 150 offi cers and men, were on duty today with headquarters at the City Hall.
Military law has not been declared, it having been announced that troops would merely aid the local authori ties in maintaining order. Machine guns are mounted at the county jail and although the militiamen are not patrolling the streets, they are under arms and ready to answer riot calls. A truck with a machine gun mounted on it is about to make hurry trips.

RIOT STARTED BY ASSAULT ON GIRL
The trouble, which started short ly before midnight last night, was the shooting of Patrolman Ryan after he had ordered a group of negroes to disperse, was the out growth of an assault last Monday night on a white girl, who was seized by an unidentified negro, who escaped. Rumors that he had been arrested caused a crowd to gather at the county jail Wednesday night and again Thursday night, but these crowds were dispersed when it was shown the negro had not been caught.

Crowds gathered again last night, but had been dispersed when the shooting began.

Among the city's 60,000 popula tion, approximately one-eighth of whom are negroes, racial feeling is still strong.

SHOOT THREE TIMES Last night's rioting apparently came in three phases. The opening conflict between officers and neg roes came when Patrolman Ryan was shot three times after he had attempted to break up a crowd of negroes at Center and Jefferson streets, within a block and a half of the police station. Ryan is ex pected to appear in court today.

Later there was another brush in which Shirley Shaffer, a negro, re ceived a slight scalp wound and later a general pitched battle in which 20 or more shots were fired between negroes and police. The negroes dodging behind trees and buildings and the officers hurling themselves behind a curbing.

While attempting to persuade ne groes to return to their homes, Pe ters, from violence City Manager Edgar Parsons, Mayor R. J. West, Plunk were fired upon, but none of them was wounded.

TWIN BROTHER IS MYTH USED BY MURDERER

Barest of Clew Gives Detective Line On Mysterious
N. Y. Killing.

That as truth is stranger than fiction, so the reader may find in the newspaper columns more fascinating romance and mystery than in the pages of the novel. As proof, THE TRIBUNE has selected from its news files one hundred mystery stories that have attracted the attention of readers during the past years. Here is another of them:

There was an Italian man who had been a first class passenger on the ship, the Andrea Doria, which was wrecked off the coast of New York. The man was found dead in the heart of New York. The man was found dead in the heart of New York. The man was found dead in the heart of New York.

These were the questions which Joseph Petrosino, the famous Italian detective, was asked to answer for the problem was directly within his province—a field of endeavor which was to lead in another and later case to his death at the hands of men whom he was shadowing.

The first examination of the body of the dead man produced little of interest. What had been responsible for his death had carefully removed every mark of identification. The labels had been stripped from the clothes, the pockets had been turned inside out, even the sweater had been ripped from the inside of the well-worn hat. Nor did the body itself bear any marks or other distinguishing features which might lead to identification through newspaper publicity.

ADDRESS IS FOUND
Not content with the results of his first search, Petrosino went over the clothes of the dead man a second time and then a third time, even going so far as to rip out the lining of the coat and vest. Here he met with his first success. Tucked away in a corner of the vest lining, where it had slipped through a hole in one of the pockets, was a crumpled and soiled bit of paper bearing the words "Sabato Gliz, P. O. Box 233, Lambertville, N. J."

Was this the name of the murdered man, or that of his assailant? Petrosino was not inclined to the belief that it was the name of the man himself, because, as he argued, the slip of paper did not look like any mark of identification, rather an address, put in the future reference. But he set out at once for Lambertville, taking with him a set of photographs of the corpse taken from all angles.

It was so easy to locate Sabato Gliz that Petrosino was immediately prejudiced in the Italian's favor, feeling certain that a man who made no attempt to hide his name, and who had been in the hands of the law, was hardly the guilty of murder. This impression became a certainty when investigation proved that Gliz had been in Lambertville on the night of the crime, and that his previous record had been beyond the shadow of suspicion.

STAIN MAN IDENTIFIED
Accordingly Petrosino sought out the Italian and laid his cards face up on the table. "He came down from New York," he explained, "to find out whether you can tell me anything about a man who was found dead in the water, with a slip of paper bearing your address. Here are some pictures of the body as it was when we found it, and the detective spread out the pocket of the coat for the other's inspection. One glance was sufficient."

"Why, it's Tony Torrelli!" exclaimed Gliz, wondering what had become of him. "He's been missing for some time, then?" queried Petrosino. "Ever since the middle of last week," said the Italian. "Torrelli arrived here not long ago from Italy and came to see me the minute he could get away from Ellis Island. One of my friends told me his address, there it is on that slip of paper—and Tony asked for my advice because he had a fair-sized sum of money. He told me to put it in the bank, but he had had some unfortunate experiences with banks in the old country, so he said that he would like to have some place to invest the money. He preferred to keep it with him. That's the reason he was killed, I suppose."

"Do you know anyone who might have been guilty of the crime?" Petrosino asked.

World Writers Contribute to Sunday Tribune

News and magazine features will make tomorrow's Sunday TRIBUNE particularly notable. Aunt Elsie's pages will be found in the comic section. Two pages of additional features have been added to the magazine. Here are some of the things you'll find in Sunday's TRIBUNE:

President Harding's inaugural message is praised by Maximilian Harden, Germany's noted publicist, who says the world may see hope in the policies of the United States.

Rene Viviani, former French premier, who is coming to the United States as the representative of France to confer with President Harding, declares the invasion of Germany was absolutely necessary to compel payment of reparations and that Dr. Sigmund's imperiousness was responsible for the collapse of the London conference.

N. O. Messenger, TRIBUNE Washington correspondent, describes the first days of the Harding administration.

Arthur Henderson, former Labor member of the British war cabinet, in a cable, criticizes the invasion of Germany by allied armies as an act of violence sanctioned by the Versailles treaty.

How the White House open-door policy of President Harding is appreciated in Washington is told by Elizabeth King Stokes.

Stuart P. West, financial writer, tells of the effect the railway crisis has on Wall Street and says the Stock Exchange was not affected by the invasion of Germany.

Smoking among American women is on the increase, says Clara Savage, who has interviewed a number of New York tobacco dealers.

Humorist Robert C. Benchley, associate editor of Life, admits that he is a pretty bad smoker, and over the Russian situation and the invasion of Germany.

Jessie Henderson has a breezy account of happenings in "Little Old New York." In the past seven days.

The entire policy of the allies on the Rhine, according to William Bird's cable from London, is an effort to prevent President Harding from declaring a separate peace with Germany.

Industrial conflict is predicted by Harold Colfax between the railroads and their employees when an attempt is made to cut wages. Railroad earnings have vanished, the writer says.

"Through California Prisons"—San Quentin, what it looks like inside, from the gallows to the hospital, where they keep the men young—will be among the interesting California features in the magazine. This is the first of a series of articles on San Quentin and Folsom.

WOMAN MURDERED WHILE KNEELING

LODI, March 12.—Post mortem on the bodies of J. W. Rathbun and wife, conducted by Dr. A. C. Boehmer, reveal that the woman was shot twice. Either wound would have been fatal. The range of the bullet indicates that she was fired upon while prone or in a kneeling position. The surgeon found that Rathbun, following the murder of his wife, ended his life with a bullet which went clear through the head. Rathbun is said by men who knew him best to have been quarrelsome and ugly when under the influence of liquor, and at such times abused his wife. The day before the shooting, however, they appeared in Lodi in an effort to negotiate a loan and secure a divorce. The cause of the fatal quarrel will go to the grave with them.

tion and armory project Mayor Davis asserted that Oakland has never received any state aid for building and read a long list of cities that have been favored.

"I asked for this building years ago," said the mayor, "found I was too late to get into budget. Two years ago I was put by the war and now am before once again. The city will give a for the building, a site near auditorium and near the place where we expect to build a great state building."

Mayor Davis closed by extending the welcome of the city to the visiting legislators and to this Speaker Wright, replying:

"We are here, and we are glad. Oakland is not unknown California. Its fame is spread length of the state, even in South California. It is not enough that there were not so many San Francisco men present I would say it down there we regard Oakland as the greatest city of the Pacific. There are many problems before legislature and we are trying represent the whole state. I can say what we will do with Oakland building plan, but can say that it our sincere sympathy."

COMMUNITY PROPERTY LAW IS URGED

A short statement of the purpose of the California Civic League, in favor of legislative support for community property law was made by Mrs. F. G. Law, president of the league.

"Through this league," Mrs. Law said, "and through the Federation Women's Clubs and the Congress Mothers, the women of California have learned it is more laudable work for others than for self. The expression of women is needed in public life, for that expression reflected on the human side, which is the side of the state, is material aid. Isn't woman ready to be treated economically as an equal?"

Consider without prejudice the community property law. Mrs. Law said that the need for attention to development on this side of the state was not enough. San Francisco had no more room in which to expand. He declared that if it had been a transcontinental rail line in 1849, there would have been no San Francisco, and added:

"Upon the bay of San Francisco must be concentrated the trade commerce of the Pacific coast. Francisco is not capable of taking care of all of this trade and we no desire to take anything from the more San Francisco grows more we grow, but that city has the room and the public business that is necessary except the public money, and that Oakland is doing and will continue to do."

"We are not asking for a share of the money, but that city has the room and the public business that is necessary except the public money, and that Oakland is doing and will continue to do."

WATER LITIGATION SODERBERG EXPLAINS

Parade then explained the water situation and the bill before the legislature. He was followed by Commissioner Soderberg, who said that the water situation was a matter of public interest, and who added a word for a bill of the state automobile licensing department in Oakland.

McKinnon Monday morning and ask that the condemnation suit filed by the Southern Pacific Company against the Crockett Land and Cattle Company be set for trial. The suit is for the condemnation of 19.35 acres of land on the slope of Mount Diablo, which is a necessary addition to their property. ## AMERICA'S COST HEAVIEST

As has been stated among those that urge the reduction of the United States of the war to European nations that this country endure the war late and therefore had to bear a burden than any of the other adversaries.
Teutonic powers. This is not true. Of several other nations lost more absolute through deaths and permanent disabilities than the United States, but this is not the pleaders for cancellation have in mind. before Congress adjourned Senator Spencer Missouri submitted an estimate of the war costs of the several Allied powers. He estimated of three items—the war costs, found inclusive way by deducting the pre-war national debts from the post-war national debts adding the abnormal war taxes; the civilian casualties, and the pension liabilities under plans made by the several nations. From this gross he deducted the indemnities realized or certainly realized and the property and territory enemy divided among the victors.

This estimate the United States, because of its participation in the German indemnities, bears the greatest burden of the war. The loss of this country totals $41,874,000,000. is $671,000,000 more than the cost to any belligerent of the Allied group. Japan's the smallest of all, only $232,000,000 or less she is spending during the current year on her army and navy. Despite this fact Japan is insisting upon the control of all the former German islands in the Pacific north of the equator, including the island of Yap, which the United States wants internationalized.

estimating the gross costs, France leads all nations with $54,272,915,000, followed by Britain, $51,072,634,000; America, $44,173,- 000; Italy, $18,680,847,000; Belgium, $8,174,- 000; China, $663,376,000, and Japan, $481,- 000. The reduction in gross costs to various nations is due to indemnities. From these figures he deducted the compensations referred to in the Paris peace treaty.

SLAIN ON FALSE TESTIMONY.

Japan has discovered a critic of her Korean policy in her own household. This critic had the right to speak truthfully once; whether he was permitted to do so the second time remains to be ascertained. He is Mr. Ichiro Kiyose of the Nationalist party bloc in the Japanese a speech in the parliament a few days ago warned his government of the inadvisability of pursuing in Korea methods specially marked by brutality and prejudice. He mentioned specially the destruction by Japanese troops of Christian schools and churches at Chientao on the Manchurian frontier. Reports of these crimes abroad, said Mr. Kiyose, made the Japanese appear in the role of blood-thirsty devils.

As a minority member of the Diet has come to stating the truth than any other Japanese official whose remarks have become known in this country. Not only have the proceedings of the Japanese government in Korea, ostensibly in the formula of justice, merited the title of "blood-thirsty," but they have reflected either a total indifference or a foolish ignorance on the part of the Japanese officials entrusted with the conduct of punishing the alleged revolutionary dissenters. Following Mr. Kiyose's speech in the Diet, Admiral Saito, the governor of Korea, prepared a statement for the press in which appears a naive confession:

Unfortunately many Koreans adopted Chris-tianism as a cloak, believing it in some way to be anti-Japanese movement. Also many Koreans were very untruthful. Some of them bore false testimony against other Koreans of whom they were jealous or against whom they had a grudge.
In these victims of their own wickedness, some were executed, these same witnesses carried prepared reports to the missionaries. * * * Such things will never occur again, as orders have been issued to the troop commanders against the acceptance of false Korean testimony.

Such statements as these reminds the Western world that Japan is not yet out of the woods of medieval practices and Oriental chicanery noted for its exquisite cruelty. Admiral Saito, with amazing frankness, tells the world that Japanese have executed Koreans on the testimony of other Koreans afterwards found to be false. He describes an alleged trait of Korean character. If that trait exists he knew of it before the executions. Yet he shows that victims of false evidence were slain without corroboration of the charges against them by reliable witnesses.

This is the most generous interpretation that may be placed on Governor Saito's statement.
Otherwise he stands convicted of studied falsehood as well as of slaying native Koreans on false testimony.

REDUCTION IS POSSIBLE

One of the most discouraging manifestations at Sacramento is the resentment which the State Budget Board displays at all suggestions that its $81,000,000 estimate of governmental expenditures is susceptible of a reduction. One member of the board, the State Controller, has carefully explained in a widely circulated public statement that the budget only makes estimates and recommendations, that it possesses no legislative powers whatsoever, and that it is in no way responsible for what action the Legislature may take regarding its estimates.

Yet the budget board is fighting continually and tenaciously to defend its estimates as if they were possessed of a sacred quality. It denounces all efforts to bring up the subject of reducing the budget as a wanton affront upon the whole fabric of government. It is continuing day and night its drive on public opinion to create the idea that its estimates are unassailable and cannot be changed, and a drive upon the Legislature to prevent anything so audacious as reduction. For a body that has confessed its unimportance and irresponsibility it is displaying an amazing fear that something may happen to its determination to impose a $40,000,000 increase in the burden of government.

This is not the right spirit for a modest State body with only the power to recommend to display. On the contrary it should greet suggestions and enquiries regarding a possible reduction of expenses with cheerful good temper. It is not forgotten that the Governor made a positive pledge to the people to introduce economy in the government. It is due the Governor to treat his public promises with political circumspection if not with sincere respect.

One highly respected citizen, one in whom the people have vastly more confidence than in any member of the Board of Control, a former chairman of the State Railroad Commission, has declared that it is possible to reduce the budget by $8,000,000. The budget board should welcome Mr.
Thelen's assistance in this connection. If he finds there has been duplication in some items the board should be willing to profit by the information.
Perhaps it is possible to dispense with one or two of the numerous inspectors provided for under the item of "support." $212,000, for the State Board of Control. Perhaps one of the attorneys in the Controller's office can be dropped.

Regarding the larger appropriations certainly reductions are possible, however small they may be. There is the item of $1,609,900 for "salaries" for the several normal schools. The people should not be expected to take the budget board's exclusive word that no reduction is possible here.

For the State hospitals there is recommended an appropriation of $3,424,500 for "salaries" and $3,642,500 for "support." Thus it costs, under the estimates, practically as much to take care of the job-holders in these institutions as it does to support the unfortunate inmates. No feeling of "sacredness" should preclude the possibility of examining the system in vogue to ascertain whether this extraordinary salary item may be trimmed without impairing the public service.
The Legislature should for once declare its independence of the little budget board and find out for itself whether reductions in the $81,000,- 000 tax burden is possible.

In an annual report of a large industrial cooperation to its stockholders—it happens to be the Midvale Steel and Ordnance Company—there appears the notation that the amount of government and other marketable securities on hand is $5,019,778, compared with $40,071,103 at the end of 1919. This inconspicuous statement is typical of the showing of thousands of industrial and business concerns throughout the country. It shows the heavy liquidation that has been made of the Liberty bonds bought in 1917 and 1918.
The concerns have used them as a means of raising needed cash. Due to the high rate of interest and the other restrictions on new credit imposed by the Federal Reserve Board it was found more economical to sell the government securities at a loss than to borrow money and hold the securities.
This in turn affected the Liberty Loan market adversely, causing an unexpected depreciation in the marketable value of the bonds. It would seem that the largest part of this liquidation has now been affected. Liberty bonds should soon be offered in much smaller volume, with a consequent strengthening of the price. Now, as always, it is good policy to hold on to the Liberty bonds.

Former Governor Cox of Ohio was not compelled to go to Europe in order to view the lost provinces.

NOTES and COMMENT

If it is true that the total cost of the presidential inauguration ceremonies was but $1500, a lesson is afforded that should check the spending tendency in connection with public functions. Nothing occurs in the whole country that is more worthy of display than a presidential inaugural, and if it can be got through with thus economically there must be a great lot of spending that is wholly unnecessary.

It is represented that job hunters are rushing the capital, but it is doubtful if they are after berths in the Department of Commerce. The average person who seeks a government job is not anxious to secure one where exactness as to duties is a feature. Herbert Hoover is the Secretary of Commerce, and has a reputation of being a busy, busy man who performs under him.

There are those who think they can see a difference in the mail service already. But it is only fair to let Burkison enjoy his repose. He is not taking it now at the expense of a strenuous nation, somewhat anxious that its letters get through promptly and its packages safely.

There is noted for being out in front as to some curious things. It originated the time-out bed sheet, that can be doubled back and thus head off the microbes which accrue from the prior lodger, and now it has out the hot and crowded dishes in eating places, for the reason that they harbor bugs that carry disease.
As a health measure cracked dishes are to be eschewed, but the eschewing should be a duty of the purveyor, and would not seem to be a matter for a statute.

It is now suspected that the declaration of the Chicago superintendent of schools to the effect that it is good form to say "This is me," is publicity work in the interest of King Lardner, who wants the job of writing that city's text books.

A New Jersey despatch tells about a whisky "shrinkage" to the extent of 147,000 gallons. They may be extra police in New Jersey, but it goes by another name in California.
And at that, the climate here is more favorable to liquid shrinkage than it is credited with being in New Jersey.

There is evidence of a what's-the-use feeling in the new Congress as to investigations. More than one hundred were set going by the last Congress, and results were so indefinite that that body, in order to get anywhere with other matters that are important, will let the past go for a while and attend to the congested present and the somewhat ominous future.

The Kansas City Star prints gospel truth in this: "There are times when everybody longs for the good old days," but really he longs for his good old youth, when his girl and the mid-term examinations were his greatest worries and dad was still good for a touch.

It has been cynically observed that an anti-tobacco agitation may succeed, for that would only affect the general populace; but that there is no need to fear a vegetarian amendment, for that would encounter the effective opposition of the packers.

A San Francisco police judge in a recent decision delivered a homily on the holiness of justice which rangling.
This may be a deplorable vice, but from all accounts there are other things San Francisco police courts are reputed to know about that could be taken prior notice of.
It is too much like beginning at the easiest end.

The pleasant custom of egg rolling on the White House lawn is to be revived on the forthcoming Easter occasion. Many will thus realize what a poor substitute egg rolling has been.

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS.

Governor Stephens, the State Board of Control and other administration job-holders seem to have a will to crack over the heads of the legislators that makes them cringe.
It is the patronage pie plate, filled with several thousand salaries jobs, and half of the men in the Assembly and Senate want to eat out of it.
That King revenue bill has no redeeming features whatever. Instead of raising more millions by taxation the legislature should cut down the budget to meet expenses.—Richmond Record-Herald.

Egg-case making is now an important industry of the Antioch paper mill. Learning some months ago that thousands of cardboard cases for packing eggs for shipment and cold storage were shipped in from the East, officials of the mill placed an order for a machine, which has been running successfully for several weeks. Later other machines were added, and now the output is thousands of cases a day.—Byron Times.

Another reason we should all jump onto our railroads and street car systems is because they are getting so voracious they will not carry children free longer than four or five years after they have passed the free age limit.—Richmond Record-Herald.

And now Secretary Daniels resumes his editorial work on his newspaper in Raleigh, N. C., with the knowledge that he did pretty well for an editor. The average editor, especially in the south, does not relish so much water as a whole column full.—Richmond Record-

A PROBLEM OF ADDITION AND SUBTRACTION.

TIFLIS.

"Tiflis, to the Westerner with hazy map notions of the Near East, is lost in a sea of 's'-Teheran, Trebizond and Tabriz—and he is likely to tag it with the rest as 'somewhere east of the Bosphorus' and let it go at that," says a bulletin issued by the National Geographic Society in response to the latest of Near Eastern capitals to be reported as attacked and Turkish towns. It is the capital of Bolshevik forces.
"But Tiflis has an individuality that should set it apart from Persian dom of Georgia, which lies just to the south of Caucasus, and which Russia absorbed in 1801 to mark for a century her farthest advance south.

"Tiflis has well over a third of a million inhabitants, which makes it a city bigger than Seattle or Kansas City, slightly smaller than Atlanta or New Orleans. And yet in a sense it is a cross-roads community — one of the most important 'cross-roads' in the world. It is midway along the Trans-Caucasian railway which extends between the Black and Caspian Seas, meeting the latter at Baku, the great oil town of Asia. And it is crossed by a north and south post and military road which pierces the great rampart of the Caucasus to the north.
Thus the two main routes between southeastern Asia and southwestern Europe both pay tribute to Tiflis.
"As a result of this location Tiflis is the modern Babel. Seventy languages are said to be spoken in its streets and bazaars, and unless Tiflis guides can wheedle and swear in at least a dozen tongues they are useless. Armenians are one of the largest alien factors in the population, and besides these the highways have brought Russians, Persians, Turks, Afghans, Tartars, Germans and representatives of more than a hundred tribes and nationalities that have been cast up on the roofs of the Caucasus in the thousands of years during which the racial tide has ebbed and flowed in southeastern Asia.
"And in addition to the aliens there are, of course, the Georgians themselves: the men big, stalwart, well-built and armed to the teeth; the women graceful, with finely cut features and wonderful complexions.
Both the men and women of Georgia are generally taller and more
southeastern Asia.

"They are a light-hearted, merry folk, the Georgians, lovers of feasts and dancing and singing. Not inappropriately, perhaps, Tiflis is a great wine center, where is marketed the heavy vintage from the vines that grow to perfection on the Caucasian foothills. And so it is heavily stretched a point to say that Tiflis is, in a not undesirable sense, a city of wine, women and song.

"The name 'Tiflis' is derived from a term meaning 'hot' or 'warm town', and whether one considers the summer temperature, the natural hot baths, the riot of color in the bazaars, the complexions of the women, the temperament of the people, or the lively atmosphere of the metropolis, it fully lives up to the implications of its title.

"The city is set aside the swift river Kura in a valley rimmed by bar-ren hills. To the traveler expecting to see typical Asian city, the Russian and European part of Tiflis is a revelation. The wide, well-paved, tree-fringed and electric-lighted Golovinsky Prospekt is the Fifth avenue of the Near East.

About YOUR HEALTH

Why Worry Is First Step On Way to Physical Trouble

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., Commissioner of Health, New York City.

In medicine there are a lot of big names. One is "Acroparesthesia," or simple "Parasthesia." This name is given to that "pins and needles" sensation which often occurs in hands and feet. The extremities are numb, or they tingle, or feel as if insects were crawling over them. Sometimes the sensation is described "as if the feet had gone to sleep."

This is a disease or condition apparently suffered by women more than by men.
In our bodies are several nerves called the "vaso-motor" nerves.
They control blood supply. One set acts to dilate the blood vessels and another to contract them. For instance, you are embarrassed.
Your "vaso-dilator" nerves send down a message and the floodgates are opened. As a result your cheeks are flushed and you are blushing.
On another occasion you are frightened. Then the "vaso-constrictor" nerves take charge. The blood vessels are contracted and your cheeks "pale."

Parasthesia is a disorder of the "vaso-motor" machinery. The delicate balance has been disturbed.
The hands and fingers and possibly the feet tingle and have abnormal feelings. The skin may be blanched or flushed in appearance.

The attacks come on now and then, appearing at irregular intervals.
Putting the hands too much in cold water aggravates the condition.

All disturbances in sensation should give warning to those who overwork or overworry. I think it may be said that such attacks as I have described are purely functional and, in the beginning, certainly, are of no importance if the cause is removed.

The nervous system is very delicate and complicated. In its ramifications it is like the telephone system of a great city. It is just as easy for it to get out of order as it is for the telephone system.

The telephone would soon be useless if the operators never slept or rested. So, if you would have a newer-fangled nervous system, you must have all the sleep you need, and abundance of rest, between times. Lack of sleep will break down the nerves sooner than any other enemy.

Elimination must be perfect. The kidneys and bowels must be active at all times.

No unduly large factor of ill-health should be disregarded. Bad teeth or tonsils may be responsible for infections that have detrimental effects upon the nervous system.
Then comes Worry, with a big W.
I have said that the particular disturbances of sensation we are here discussing are almost exclusively complained of by women. Women cannot stand worry, real worry.
There is a difference between the deceitful worries of some persons and the honest worries of others.

Just as sure as fate there is physical trouble ahead for one who gives way to worry. You must find a way to stop it. Have faith that God is in His Heaven still!

21 BERKELEYANS HEAR ARGUMENTS ON CONSOLIDATION

Alternate Proposal Opposed by Majority Expressing Selves on Subject.

BERKELEY, March 12.—With twenty-one persons in the audience and eight on the floor, a meeting of the board was held in the city hall last night. Charles H. Spear presided in the absence of Chairman Leon C. Clark. The other freeholders who attended the meeting were Lewis Hicks, Blanche Morse, Orlando E. Swain, W. Herbert Graham, Samuel J. Donohue, Benjamin H. Pendleton and Harry W. K. K. K.

Of those expressing themselves on the submission of an alternate proposal, which would mean county division, the majority were against the proposal.

Hicks explained the law governing consolidation and was followed by Professor F. E. Shaw of the department of agriculture of the University of California, who was called upon as representative of the Hillside Club of Berkeley.

The Hillside Club at a meeting attended by fifty people, of whom thirty were present, declared that it was not fully conversant with all the features involved and a wide difference of opinion was expressed. Most of the county felt opposed to any kind of consolidation, he said.

AGAINST CONSOLIDATION.

Professor Shaw declared that the meeting was in favor of a city and county government for Berkeley if any change was to be made in the present system. He further declared that the meeting was absolutely against county consolidation.

"Most people say that consolidation is impossible because," he stated, "it is felt that three counties will be made out of Alameda county if consolidation is pressed too strongly, namely, those of Berkeley, Alameda and Contra Costa."

He declared in his opinion that if Oakland forms a county of its own it will be but a short time before the limits of the municipality will be filled and the people of Oakland will be living outside of the city. He said he thought Berkeley would experience the same difficulties if any consolidation is effected.

"The county is a political consolidation," he concluded, "but I don't believe it is possible."

AGAINST ALTERNATIVE.

In reply to a question asked by President Shaw, asking if the Hillside Club was in favor of an alternative proposition allowing separate portions of the county to proceed if the charter was turned down, Mr. K. K. K. replied: "No, the club is against the alternative."

Called upon by Spear for an expression, Mark L. Regan, president of the Alameda County Tax Association, told of the consolidation movement dating back several years.

W. C. Moran, representing the South Berkeley Commercial Club, said that at a meeting last Tuesday night the club went on record as in favor of the city and county government. In reply to the same question asked Shaw, Moran said the club did not approve of an alternative plan, but that it would vote for such a plan, he declared, other cities in the county would be left out. He said the same condition applied to other cities as well.

"If salaries were eliminated," he said, "what assurance would we have that we would not have a superintendent of schools at a big salary and big salaries also for a mayor and councilmen?"

NOT READY FOR IT.

Miss Clara B. Sikes urged one big city without the borough plan, but said that the people were "undoubtedly not ready for that."

Charles Robertson of the West Berkeley Improvement Club declared that some time ago his club endorsed the plan for consolidation, believing that duplication of officers would be eliminated.

Charles Hadlen declared that unless a straight county consolidation was adopted, or a limited borough plan, the government might as well remain as it is. "We tried before to annex Berkeley to Oakland but the plan didn't succeed," he said. "A little help from the outside may be of assistance, however. Unless we adopt a straight county consolidation or a limited borough plan we may as well stay as we are."

M. C. Holman, president of the Vernon-Ridge Improvement Club, which has a membership of 400, declared that his organization favored consolidation under the borough system, but in this event he desired that each city retain its identity. He declared that the club was unanimously against dividing Alameda county, which the alternate proposal would accomplish.

E. W. Williams of the Alameda County Tax Association spoke on consolidation. W. J. Cooper, superintendent of the Piedmont schools reported that the Thousand Oaks Improvement Club had refused to take action on the question.

Children Take Sides In Divorce

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—Superior Judge Thomas Graham ordered without success to solve a problem affecting two children today and finally took the matter under advisement, after reading the pathetic notes of the kiddies. Chester Damico, proprietor of the Costa hotel, petitioned the court to be given the custody of his 12-year-old daughter Adele, now residing with her mother, Mrs. Cecile Lippi, in Oakland.

When a divorce decree was granted three years ago, Mrs. Lippi then Mrs. Damico, was given the custody of the girl, and her husband that of a son, now ten years. Damico declares that Lippi is not a proper custodian for his daughter and asserts that both children should be together. If his request is refused, he said, he was willing to place the child in a boarding school. Notes from the two youngsters played an important part in the proceedings. The massive from Adele to her father declares his conduct, while that of the boy, Chester Jr., takes Mrs. Lippi to task.

Chester writes to his mother in one sentence: "If Papa isn't good enough to protect sister, I would like to know who is. If you were any kind of a mother you would not turn sister against Papa."

Adele, writing to her father, says: "You seem to forget that mother belongs to me when she is nothing to you. Mother has had in Pleasanton, Livermore, Berkeley and San Francisco how you gossip about her and that lovers you awful. So, Daddy, I will treat you mother right, I day that you treat mother right, I day that you same."

Tech Garden Club Turns to Planting

A class in garden craft was the outgrowth of an idea of Howard Gillette, instructor of Technical High School, in forming a garden club last October.

When the students realized they were growing into a class, they issued a call for old garden tools. A plot of ground was next chosen and worked over for a nursery. That nursery is at present filled with transplanting seedling and cuttings of lovely shrubs are rooted in sand beds. The red-berried Cotoneaster, Magnolia, Oregon Grape, Forsythia, myrtle and Breath of Heaven, will put in a decided appearance soon. Another plot near the nursery has been waited in and planted with the native toyon and holly berry.

Upon the completion of concrete steps on the north bank of the athletic field, the Garden Club will plant green shrubs between these steps and the buildings.

Later in the spring, the bare spots in the front lawn will be covered with native evergreens. An attractive color scheme will be carried when the white flowers upon the grounds are replaced with blossoms being cultivated in the club nursery.

Unemployed List Is Reported Increasing

ALAMEDA, March 12.—The number of unemployed men in Alameda has shown an increase during the past month, according to report of Mrs. Beulah Spunn, executive secretary of the Alameda Social Service Board. The board has 35 relief cases on its hands at present.

The board is supplying 27 quarts of milk a day to provide nourishment for children, but according to Mrs. Spunn, this amount is far from being adequate. This item costs $135 a month and Mrs. Spunn has issued an appeal to the public for funds. The county and city allow certain amounts, but there are all used in other forms of relief work. There are 38 children who have to be supplied with milk.

SMILING GIRLS PICTURE STYLES OLD AND NEW

Berkeley High Students Are Seen in Vaudeville Program.

BERKELEY, March 12.—Students at Berkeley high school proved themselves versatile artists last night with the staging of the annual vaudeville show in the high school auditorium. Several hundred dollars for school activities was netted by the clever performance.

As a particular feature of the show was a novel act, "The Vanity Box."

In which demure maids showed the evolution of woman's attire from the time of the cave woman to the day of the modern girl. Contents of the vanity box also stepped forth to present themselves to the audience in cleverly conceived costumes worn by a bevy of the prettiest girls at the school, Miss Nettie Bennett representing one of the "contents."

Other attractive acts also featured the bill, as offered under faculty direction. Music was furnished by the high school orchestra.

Berkeley Police May Use Wireless Phones

BERKELEY, March 12.—Berkeley police may report to station by means of wireless telephones. Experiments being conducted today by Inspector A. R. Mehrens in San Francisco prove successful.

Mehrens was ordered to San Francisco this morning to have the necessary apparatus installed on his machine in order to try out the wireless phone plan from various parts of San Francisco. The machine will be installed by a San Francisco corporation.

If today's experimental work proves successful, the police will be able to communicate with each other in San Francisco, then there is little doubt that the wireless telephone will be practical under more favorable circumstances in Berkeley.

There has been during this time, 7305 criminal offenses amounting to a felony, according to Webb's report. The biennial 1916 to 1918 showed 8475 cases, showing a decrease for the past two years of 670 cases, or 7.9 per cent.

SCRANTON BRIDE ASKS $15,500 OF SAMUEL G. DAVIS

"Love Balm" Suit Alleges Cal- ifornian Is Guilty of Duplicity.

Charges that Samuel G. Davis, of Oakland, posed as a rich bachelor from California won the heart of Miss Elizabeth Klein, of Scranton, Pa., and married her, after a whirlwind courtship there, only to plunge her into the depths of despair when she learned he had another wife living, are contained in the "love balm" suit of Miss Klein against Davis for $15,500 filed here today.

Miss Klein says Davis dazzled her with the promise of a fortune and that he would "move to her and live with her." As a particular feature of the show was a novel act, "The Vanity Box."

Other attractive acts also featured the bill, as offered under faculty direction. Music was furnished by the high school orchestra.

Lamp Black Candy Sold In Stores Near Schools

The discovery that candy stores located near Oakland's schools have been selling sweets colored with lamp-black and chemically impure otherwise is to result in a ban against these stores and the sale of candy conducted in the schools themselves under proper supervision, it was announced today by the Board of Education.

This action has been decided on, it is asserted by the Board of Education, as the result of disclosures brought about by Mrs. Le Genke, the department of domestic sciences and foods, during an investigation into the varieties of candies sold by stores established near the schools.

Miss Le Genke is said to have discovered that cheap candies colored with lamp-black and otherwise made unfit for consumption was being sold. Before making any action, the Board of Education inspected an exhibit of the candy prepared by Miss Le Genke.

An exhibit was arranged by Miss Le Genke, the department of domestic sciences and foods, during an investigation into the varieties of candies sold by stores established near the schools.

POLICEMAN'S MEMORY GETS BICYCLE BACK

BERKELEY, March 12.—As a result of the keen eye and ready memory of Patrolman H. P. Lee, coupled with a love for children, one small Berkeley boy was a bicycle back today which was stolen from him eighteen months ago.

Patrolman Lee found the bicycle yesterday in the possession of another small boy. He remembered the description of a wheel stolen from Herbert Jewell, 2640 Milvia street, a year and one half ago.

The wheel, the boy who was riding it, and the officer went in company to the Jewell home.

"That's my bicycle," cried the boy the moment he saw the wheel.

The boy who was riding the bicycle explained to Lee that it was found in a vacant lot by the former owner of the house in which he lived at present and when he took up his abode in the residence he used the wheel.

NEWS OF U. S. INDUSTRIAL AND FINANCIAL CIRCLES

BERKELEY HAS BIG SPIRIT IN BUILDING LINE

Bank Clearings for the Week Show Gain; Trading Improves.

In its weekly summary of business today the First National Bank of Berkeley says:

Substantial increases in bank clearings, and building permits are the outstanding features for the week ending Thursday, March 10. During the week bank clearings amounted to $2,323,200, an increase of $348,075 over the previous week and greater by $69,270 or 2 percent than the corresponding week a year ago.

The increase in building permits is attributable to a revival of building activities and to the steady improvement of retail trade. While business is not up to the desired standard, there have been no business failures since the decline in buying and nearly every line of trade is now showing a decided improvement.

Particularly gratifying is the renewal of building permits for the week total $45,330, which is more than $1,000 greater than the previous week. The permits are: New building, $4,000; miscellaneous construction, $6,080. A permit to construct a four-story apartment house to cost $13,600, was issued last week and was the largest item in the construction permit list. Construction in under way on some twenty-five new dwellings throughout the city, the greater number being in the section to the north and east of the business district. The newly annexed districts are expected to show the greatest increase in building during the year.

CANNERS SEE BIG BUSINESS

Confidential reports from fifty-nine canneries representing all of the important plants north of the Tehachapi and including all those in the Oakland and Eastbay region, are that the whole 1920 crop of fruits and vegetables promises to be sold profitably.

The reports are summarized in a statement from the Canners' League, issued by Preston McKinney, secretary.

The movement of the 1920 pack has been effected chiefly since the first of the year, the supply having been reduced some three million cases to 3,068,621 on hand on January 20 last.

Sales since that time have gone on rapidly and the supply now left in storage is estimated at slightly more than a million cases, with excellent prospects of marketing practically all of this during the spring months.

The salesmen report steady eastern demands and carloads are being hauled daily.

The situation is highly encouraging, especially because it appeared in January that there might be a heavy glut of cargo ever in the face of another heavy crop.

Local Market Notes, Gossip

Crates of tangierines on the market today represented practically the last of the season's fruit within the city. The offerings have been scattered and scanty for some time. Today's supply was quoted at $1.75 to $2.50 the crate, according to the sorting. A few scattered crates but hardly more than that can be expected here, it is said.

Shipments of asparagus from the river area have doubled within the week. Yesterday's receipts by boat were 400 boxes. A week ago the receipts ran from 250 to 280 with the exception of one day. Today, when a double day's cutting arrived because of annulment of a Monday boat, the receipts ran above 400 boxes. Establishment of a daily consignment from the Sacramento farms is expected within a week or two, now that the season is advancing rapidly.

Easter cheese prices are prevailing generally in the grocers' markets. The market, however, is not even, because of curtailed production in factories as one of the more popular brands which has elevated prices for those kinds materially.

Better Tone Is Observable in N. Y. Stock List

NEW YORK, March 12.—The New York Evening Sun's financial review today said:

The reactionary character of Friday's stock market was reflected in the early dealings in today's short session. The list was highly unsettled during a great part of the first hour, with prices on a number of points were recorded in many leading issues, but by the close of that period a better tone had developed and not a few of the more extensive losses had been regained. As was the case yesterday, most of the selling centered in the oil descriptions, with some exceptions, such as Royal Dutch and Texas Company, Mexican Petroleum and Pan-American were subjected to heavy pressure, although they gradually worked back close to the previous closing levels.

The railroad department was featured with considerable strength in spots. Southern Pacific, St. Paul, New Haven, Great Northern and Northern Pacific were bid up at a point or thereabouts. New York Central and Pennsylvania as the principals in the waging initiative which has spread to virtually all roads, scarcely moved at all. Covering by shorts constituted the bulk of today's business after it was demonstrated at the opening that the market was not in a position to carry operations to the same length as yesterday with a recess intervening and the possibility of a limited supply of stocks available on Monday.

FOUR CHARGES MADE AGAINST BUSINESS TODAY

BERKELEY, March 12.—Four charges were made against the organization of the business world today by Rev. Raymond C. Brooks, pastor of the First Congregational church, in an address yesterday before the Berkeley Den of Lions.

"Business has had much to do with creating the spirit of brotherhood, but business is now confronted with the necessity of making a much more thoroughgoing application of the principles of brotherhood to its own organization than it has ever attempted," said the minister.

"Against business," continued Dr. Brooks, "it is autocratic, unbrotherly, unstable and immoral. Surely the necessity of making a much more thoroughgoing application of the principles of brotherhood to its own organization than it has ever attempted, said the minister.

Mercantile Sidelights

This Item Made a Splendid Piano Ad

The Huff Music Store of Bethlehem, Pa., is one of those lively organizations which believe thoroughly in the axiom, "It pays to follow the news."

Accordingly, when the advertising manager recently ran across an unusual new item in connection with pianos, he immediately transformed it into an interesting and extremely readable advertisement which proved to be one of the best business getters this section has seen in some time.

Turned Accident Into Good Sales Copy

When a motor-truck delivering a piano to a customer for E. E. Forbes & Sons Piano Co., in Birmingham, Ala., rounded a curve at too high a speed, it was thrown into a ditch and smashed the piano almost beyond recognition. C. McCallen, manager of the company's store, turned the unfortunate accident into a photograph and a brief story of the wreck was given.

GAMERY WORKERS AND EMPLOYERS CONFER ON WAGE

Thirty Thousand People Are Affected by Negotiations for Reduced Pay

Thirty thousand gamery workers, chiefly women, and fifty-two companies, representing practically all the important gambling resorts in the world, are represented in a series of conferences in progress between the state industrial workers' commission, the League and representatives of the gamery workers' union.

The question at issue is the minimum wage stipulation put into effect last year in the state of California, which the League now seeks to abrogate.

Katherine Phillips Edison, executive of the commission, has presented the reasons, one of which was held in San Francisco at the commission headquarters last Monday. Another will be held at the same place Monday morning.

The gamery workers of the state operate on the piece work basis. It is the stipulation of the state board that at least two-thirds of the employees of each category shall be rated as journeymen and paid at a rate not below 32 1/2 cents an hour. The other third may be rated as apprentices.

The league, on the other hand, insists that the proportion of journeymen and apprentices be reduced, preferably the latter.

It is stated, according to Preston McKinney, secretary of the league, that the speaking for the gamery workers is not so high that many of the plants this year cannot meet it with hope of profit. This appeal to the state body, according to McKinney, is not for a definite lowered wage, but for the abolition of all scales but a study of conditions that would enable adjustment may be arrived at.

It is the contention of the gamery workers, however, that rates will have to be fixed in individual cases of operation if they are to be fair and that a blanket regulation will not work satisfactorily.

The union gamery workers oppose any change in the working scale at this time.

WOMEN GAMBLERS NURSE "HUNCHES" Green-Topped Tables on Neglected Homes
"DAD'S" CHAIR IS CONSIDERED LUCKY

At the place where one would least expect to find them the most prosperous appearing women were discovered playing poker.

It was to an opposite end of town in a particularly shabby neighborhood in West Oakland that the investigator's "sponsor" took her to introduce her to a new card game. The house conducted by Mrs. O.C. "or Bess," as her patrons familiarly called her, was also a particularly shabby house. Yet women came in their coupons and automobiles to while away the days—and many times nights—at green-topped card tables surrounded by what they otherwise would have scoffed at.
They were careful, though, these women of fashion, to leave their automobiles parked several doors distant from the place where they played, or better still on the opposite side of the street.

The afternoon was still in its infancy—just a quarter of an hour on the way—when the investigator rolled luxuriously to the door of the new gaming place in the automobile of her sponsor. Another passenger, the wife of the manager of an Alaskan cannery, was picked up on the way. There were several women in the room when the trio of visitors walked into the house, hesitating not to ring the doorbell. But unlike the lakeside flat on East Eleventh street, where everyone took everybody else for granted, social etiquette was observed and introductions ensued. It was vastly different being introduced to society poker-playing circles by a sponsor than walking boldly in on one's own account.

WORD OF "BOSS" IS TAKEN BY PLAYERS
An additional send-off was accorded the investigator. "She's the one they thought was an spy at Mrs. K's," announced the sponsor, and everybody laughed at the idea of the woman who was conceded a power in gambling circles becoming tainted in any way by association with a "spy."

The woman who sponsored the new poker player was enthusiastically greeted. It was her first appearance at the house in some months—but despite her absence from poker games she still wielded a power that could not be questioned.

"Going to play?" questioned the lady of the house.
"No, I've reformed," she replied. "I just came to bring my friend." And shortly afterwards she departed.

A tall, blonde, angular woman was the mistress of the house, a woman apparently about 35 years of age. Somewhere she had a faded, but still noticeable, marker, for they teased her about his absence.

"You'll have to be good when he comes home," they jollied.
The rooms were thrown open for the visitors. In one burned a fire in an open grate, the only cheerful note in the whole drab house. The residence was on old-fashioned one with high ceilings and ceilings and the furnishings old and worn. However shabby the furniture, the two card tables which graced the rooms were brightly covered with new green cloth, true to gambling regulations.

Players came slow to come, but by 1 o'clock one table had been filled and shortly afterwards a second group of women were also busy at the game. For a time an old man whom everyone called "Dad" sat in the corner. He was the only member of the male sex that day with the exception of a tiny lad of four who came later with his mother. "Dad" played only part of the day. He was content to leave the game to the other sex.

CIGARETTES SMOKED
AROUND TABLES

A candy box also formed Mrs.
O.C.'s bank. Chips she sold, too, in three and five-dollar lots.
The investigator observed the same general rules—more evidence of a "league" of poker players.

Of the players at the table where the investigator sat, one was a woman who played with a quiet appearing kind of person, but who of all the female card adherents encountered was the only one who was able enough to smoke her cigarette in public. She carried in an amber cigarette holder with her and she further emphasized her masculinity by exhibiting to the guests half-hose which she wore supported by garter straps.

Then Mrs. O.C. who lacked the moral courage of Mrs.
H.—slipped out a half dozen times to take her puff where she thought she was safe from prying eyes. The wife of the cannery foreman also "sat in," a rather attractive woman gowned in blue tricotette, who was possessed of a jolly, affable disposition which laughed away the "troubles" of other players.

The hostess was forced to leave the table to sell chips to arriving guests. Bad luck had been Mrs.
O.C.'s "Dad" was the winner.
After a while Mrs. O.C. slipped from her seat into the place vacated by the lady of the house. "Dad's" luck began to change and a heated argument arose.

PLAYER SAYS SHE TIRED OF CONTRIBUTING
"I wouldn't stand for anyone taking my turn away from me," declared the lady in tricotette.
"I'd throw down my hand first."
"I'm tired of contributing my money," rejoined she who had caused the disturbance by changing her seat. "As long as one contributes gracefully, everything is all right, but better still on the howl. The same thing has been done to me time and again and what's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander."

"But you're taking 'Dad's' cards," the lady in blue still insisted. The player in blue, "Dad" watched for an opening at the second
parted.

A few minutes later some interesting lights were thrown on the question of gambling in general. Someone accidentally dropped some money on the table.
"Oh, heaven's sakes, take it off," called two or three disturbed voices in unison.

"How would you like to go to the police station?" laughed Mrs.
O.C. to the guilty player.

The woman then became immersed in a discussion as to the legal phases of poker-playing.
They forgot to play their hand for a few minutes in their enthusiasm of the all-important question. The lady in blue was an authority on the subject. She quoted a county official whom, it seemed, she had asked concerning the law on "stud" poker.
Some friends of the stud game women knew insisted on playing "stud."

COUNTY OFFICIAL STAND-IN REPORTED

"I've warned them and warned them," contributed the lady in blue. "They'll get caught yet, and it will be the end of the line."

OAKLAND CHINESE ORGANIZE TROOP OF BOY SCOUTS

American Born Oriental Boy Is Named to Lead New Organization.

Over 50 Chinese youths attended the organization of a Chinese Scout troop last night in the Lincoln school by the Oakland Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Edward Chew, son of Dr. Ng. Pon Chew of San Francisco, who was a first lieutenant in the United States army during the war, was appointed scoutmaster of the new troop. Chew is a senior in the college of engineering at the University of California.
He was born in San Francisco.

H. J. Bemiss, executive scoutmaster of the Oakland council, said:
"Oakland has the honor of having organized in this country the first Chinese Scout troops which has an American-born Chinese as its scoutmaster. There are two Chinese troops in San Francisco, but their scoutmasters are white men. It was on the suggestion of Dr. Chew that I started the work of organizing the troop. Dr. Chew and the board of directors of the Oakland council saw the great possibility of teaching Americanization subjects to the Chinese boys by organizing the troop."

The troop and examining committee will be composed of Chinese men of this city. They will be appointed by Dr. Chew.

Abe Leach, president of the Oakland council, spoke on the Scout activities that are planned for the coming year. The other speakers were Dr. Chew, Edward Chew and H. J. Bemiss.

At the close of the meeting a Scout entertainment was staged by Chinese troop No. 3 of San Francisco. Scoutmaster Lauritzen accompanied the Scouts from San Francisco.

College Girl Is Forced to Jail Her Car

Miss Helen Zukerman, 19-year-old college girl, will not feel the thrill of "stepping on the gas" tomorrow when she is driving a fast-moving car for nearly six weeks.

Judge Harry W. Puleifer has added her name to his list of those whose craving for rapid action has brought them to the point of choosing between a jail sentence of 30 days and the surrender of the driving privilege for a considerable period.

The daughter of the merchant of Stockton and who resides at 2245 Hearst avenue, Berkeley, admitted she was traveling at the rate of 30 miles an hour on the champs when the limit fixed at 15, but said she was too excited in her hurry to arrive at a certain place to slow up. Judge Puleifer offered her his customary "alternative proposition" and gallantly said he hoped the fair culprit could choose "a temporary com-mote condition of the motor" until May 20. The culprit did.

and music and a series of "mixer" games in the gymnasium. Music for Shirley Snow with the Y. M. C. A. orchestra.

mer Attorney General Palmer's recent ruling concerning the use of nouncement of the meeting was

PAINS IN SIDE AND BACK

Caused by Woman's Ills and Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Grafton, Pa.—"I was troubled with inflammation and pains in my sides and back. After doctoring with different doctors and not getting relief, I had almost given up hopes when my sister told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound,
and knowing that she had really been cured, I purchased it.
I was unable to do my work at that time, but after taking several bottles of the Vegetable Compound I can now do anything about the house or farm that a woman should do. I have a four months old baby that is the healthiest and biggest baby for his age that I have ever seen, and I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound all the praise for my health." —Mrs. BLAIR A. FISHER, R.D. 1, Box 37, Grafton, Pa.

carrying, and the heaviest of household duties—is it any wonder that it results in backaches and kindred ills?
But every woman who suffers as Mrs.
Fisher did should profit by her experience and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

Don't Fuss With MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Musterole Works Without the Blister—Easier, Quicker

There's no fuss in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little c.c.m., white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of the present white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plaster, and will not blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia), sore and sore throat; hospital size $2.

results in backaches and kindred ills?
But every woman who suffers as Mrs.
Fisher did should profit by her experience and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

Berkeley Woman Wins Favor
By Her Stagecraft on Atlantic

MISS JEANNE DEVEREAUX, Berkeley girl, who is winning histrionic laurels in the east. In private life she is Mrs. Claude Archer. She made an enviable reputation in Pacific Coast theatrical circles before leaving the west.

Talent and Beauty Bring Success to Young Matron on Long Eastern Tour

Once more has an Eastbay maid taken the East by storm with her talent and beauty.

In this instance it is an acclaimed stage favorite in the person of Jeanne Devereaux, in private life, Mrs. Claude Archer, who is winning laurels which her friends long ago predicted would be hers.

The particular bit of acting which has caused eastern critics to laud her work is being done by Miss Devereaux as leading lady at the Academy of Music at Haverhill, Mass., in her portrayal of the part of "Rosalie" in "Wedding Bells."

Born and raised in Berkeley, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Taylor, 1211 Oxford street, Miss Devereaux started her stage career in the bay region some years ago, appearing both in stock and vaudeville.
Later she was invited by Frank Bacon to take the leading role in his own play, "Me and Grant," and later, too, she played with Franklin Underwood and the Baker players in Portland, Ore.

It was in Oakland that the stage beauty met her husband, who is well-known dramatic producer, now also on the Atlantic coast, the wedding coming as the culmination of a romantic courtship of the theater.
Miss Devereaux has not visited her home city for five years.

RECREATION HELP
PLANS FAVORED

Oakland Center Endorses the Amendment Increasing Department.

Endorsement of the municipal charter amendment permitting a larger scope to the work of the recreation department which will go on the April ballot was given yesterday by Oakland Center, California Civic League, Jay B. Nash, director of recreation, presented the project to the women. He explained that under the present interpretation of the charter, the work must be limited to the confines of the playground site and to children. The proposed amendment, which does not entail additional expense to the city, merely would broaden the extending recreation to adults and in places other than on the established playgrounds. The civic center members pledged co-operation in the campaign on behalf of the charter amendment.

Dr. Mary Robert Coolidge of the Mills College faculty recently returned from a six-months' tour of the Orient and was the speaker of the day, discussing "Chinese Character and Government." The Chinese hated of the military was commented upon. Indirectness was not dishonesty was found by Dr. Coolidge to be characteristic.

Mr. E. H. Boren was chairman of the program.

Victim of Amnesia
Is Found by Police

Wandering about the streets in a state of amnesia, a man whose name is believed to be A. C. Foster, was found at Fruitvale avenue and East Tenth street by Patrolman E. J. Connelly at 10:30 o'clock last night.

The man was unable to give the officers any information regarding himself, his relatives or his address.
The only clue to his identity was a book containing the name A. C. Foster.
The police are quizzing him today and if unable to obtain further information regarding him, will take him to the Oakland emergency hospital detention ward.
